OFFICIAL PAPER OF HOLT COUNTY.
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1870.

RAILROAD TO CLARINDA.

The friends of the Nodaway Valley Railroad scheme, that is to connect St. Joseph with Clarinda, in Iowa, are busily engaged in giving the road a location. The organization effected at Graham, under the leadership of our esteemed friend, Judge Hollister, and which has now culminated into an incorporated Railroad Company, we consider as being in the interest of the Mo. Valley Road and of Savannah, and calculated to promote neither the interests of Oregon or of Holt County. It will therefore not be expected that we should advocate that project.

The way our friends on the other side of the Nodaway propose running it, this road would touch no part of Holt County—would not run through Whig Valley—would not get to within reaching distance of Oregon—nor would it, in our opinion, be the best route even for the people of the country that it is proposed to reach. It is proposed to open to the trade of St. Joseph, a country not traversed by railroad lines; and when you go to the city, you do not want to be landed two miles away from it, as will be the case by taking the Savannah route to St. Joseph.

Before locating a railroad, experienced railroad men take into consideration three things. First, The terminal points to be connected. Second, The kind and the scope of country to be developed. And Third, The feasibility and practicability of the grade.

We are prepared to show by facts and figures, that the natural route to the Nodaway Valley and one likely to be least expensive, is the so-called "Mill Creek" Run up, on the St. Joe. & C. B. Railroad to Banks' Spring, thence up the Mill Creek bottom by Kunkel's Mill—and there would be but a single elevation that separates it from the Nicholas' Creek bottom. The latter bottom emerges into the even Valley of the Nodaway River. The utmost grade on this line is only 50 feet. And we feel sure it will not be more than 40 feet. Once in the Nicholas' creek and Nodaway Valley bottoms, there would be no obstacles till the road reaches Clarinda. At the intersection of the St. Joe. & C. B. R. R. with Mill Creek, there are two miles of the old Platte Country track, with abutments already built, that could immediately be made available in the construction of this road. Besides, the Mill Creek route leads through the oldest and most thickly settled portions of Holt County—far away from all railroads. On this line, there would be five miles less of road to be built than over any other route, and would avoid all the short curves which will on the practical line via Savannah, or that via Anazonia, or that via Nodaway Station. The line via Nodaway Station would necessitate a vast amount of labor in blasting the rock and digging through those rough bluffs on the lower Nodaway.

Regarding the grade from Savannah to the Nodaway bottom, it cannot be less than 120 feet, and would necessitate a number of abrupt curves, which are the bane of all railroad men. As an inducement to any company taking in hand the building of this line, we can say, that nature has provided an abundance of building material, such as wood and rock all along the line. There has also been discovered a forty-inch vein of bituminous coal, on the practical, furnishing enough coal for all routine purposes.

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR.

A private letter from the State Capital to the St. Joseph Herald conveys the information that there is considerable gossip in that locality in reference to the probable nominee of the Radical party for the next Governorship. Among the most prominent names mentioned are Hon. Lieut. Governor Stannard and B. Gratz Brown, of St. Louis, Hon. R. T. Van Horn, of Kansas City, and Hon. Samuel Hays, of St. Joseph. Either of these gentlemen would make available candidates, except Mr. Brown, whose health is so poorly that it would hardly do to run him for any office.

The assessed valuation of property in Nodaway county has increased nearly two millions of dollars within the past year. The number of resident real estate tax-payers has increased seven hundred and eighty-two over last year. This is a flattering record for the growth of the county, and is owing mostly to the construction of the railroad.

We saw a good-looking country girl emerge from a store in Patestown, St. Joseph, Tuesday, smoking a cob pipe with much gusto. She is a cousin of Buell, of the Maryville Democrat. So says the Union.

Rock Bottom.

The White Cloud Chief says, a party of men, properly equipped, went out one day last week to ascertain by actual test what there was in the theory of rock bottom to the river. The point selected was just above town. About one hundred feet from the Kansas shore they found the rock at a depth of thirteen feet below the surface of the water, which averages from ten to twenty feet in depth the whole way across, thus showing the rock to be but little below the bottom of the river bed. They then proceeded to a point half way across the river, where they again sounded and drilled, and found the rock thirty feet below the water surface. Beyond this point they would not venture, as they had deferred the exploration too long, and found that the ice would not bear them any farther toward the eastern shore. These examinations leave no doubt that there is rock bottom the whole distance across the river, but that it is deeper down as it approaches the eastern side of the river.

Nine years ago Virginia concluded that the Union was not good enough for her. For four years past the question has been, is Virginia good enough for the Union. At last it has been settled that she is, if she behaves well. It is to be hoped these nine long and weary years of pilgrimage will have taught the venerable dame lessons of prudence and humility, to which she heretofore was a stranger. We wish her every possible prosperity, and less pride in the future. —Quincy Waite.

LETTER FROM CORNING.

CORNING, Feb. 15th, 1870.

MR. EDITOR: Seekers after truth sometimes ask questions that are difficult to answer, but always there is a great satisfaction in asking. What I most want to know now is what are we to do for law! To-day there came a message to Charlie Patrick, our popular station agent, asking if we had a constable in our town, if so, they wished said constable to arrest one Wm. E. Hill, of Council Bluffs, if said Hill was upon the train. Now Hill might have been on the train and for that matter a dozen small hills. But who had the authority to arrest him or "any other man?" Not one! We have thus far no law dealt out to us, and we feel aggrieved that we cannot go to law or have recourse to law, like other civilized people. Remember, I am not complaining that we do not have justice done us, but what I do most find fault with is, we have no officers here to administer the law. It may be, if justice were done us, we might all be hung. Better be hung than to live where any man can come in and commit any crime, and "no one to molest or make afraid."

Are the county officials compelled to go against all measures that will benefit the whole county? That's what we want to know. What protection have we against any mean set of men, that feel inclined to come in here, and, in western parlance, "raise thunder," with the county. We simply have none. Now, how are we to remedy the matter? That's the all-important question. Last week's petition went in from this corner of the county to drain the swamp lands lying above town. Said petition was accompanied with a plot describing the whole ground, and what reply did we get? That we would not get any commissioners appointed nor could we even get any one to meet the commissioners of Atchison county! Why is this, thus? The reply was, that the petition must be accompanied by a civil engineer's report, and that it must be shown that it was practicable and profitable to the county, before the proposition would be entertained. The said plot was drafted by as good an engineer as there is in this county, and we think up here that he has no equal in the county on figures. We challenge the county or State on mathematical questions, and push forward our modest champion, Horace Martin, without fear of being beaten. Try us on.

I had thought to have given you the number of hogs shipped from this point this fall, but business has kept me from getting the number, but will give a rough guess. 3000 will not be over the amount. I would like to call the attention of your numerous readers to the fact that we have some big farmers in this portion of the "moral vineyard." F. W. Walters does farming upon a large scale, and by New Englanders would be considered as doing a "big thing" in that line. Henry Dankers is not much behind in number of acres, and I think Henry Roselind and Dankers are about as large landholders surprised, coming from the East, to see as there are in the county. One would be surprised at the amount of land under cultivation here.

The German element is receiving additions daily and we are more than pleased to see them come. They make good citizens, and always vote right for liberty and Union. A large emigration is looked for this coming spring. We are all awake upon the subject of voting this next November, as many of us then become voters. But as my thread is spun out, I guess I will wind it up more anon.

OCCASIONAL.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18th, 1870.

Yesterday and to-day the Woolen Manufacturers' Association has been in session, it being the third annual meeting. This Association now comprises woolen manufacturers of the West, and it is proposed to make such changes as will admit the textile manufacturers of all kinds. The best interests of the wool-growers and manufacturers are protected by this Association, and the rapidly growing of this great interest is largely due to these efforts.

We are having weather of unprecedented mildness for this season of the year. For several weeks past the temperature has resembled that of April or May. There is an entire absence of snow and ice from our streets, and locomotion is as pleasant as at any season of the year. This is very acceptable, if we do not pay dearly for it when the season of vegetation commences.

Our lecture field is pretty well cleared of late, the host of foreign stars having had their day and gone. The Rev. Dr. Hatfield appeared last evening as a lecturer, in opposition to the agitation of woman's rights. He has always taken strong negative ground on this question, and pressed his views with great energy and determination. His arguments were not new, as many have urged them before, but very few can put them with the force of the Doctor.

There is something that demands attention in the mode of life of hundreds of young men in this city. They rent rooms in the upper stories of business blocks and get their board at hotels or restaurants. Many of them know as little of the society of good women as the Indians of the plains. "Why is this?" is often asked. The only answer I could ever obtain was "it was too expensive to marry." Young women are taught expensive habits and must continue to live after marriage as they lived before. Young men spend all their salaries in keeping up to the social standard, and are therefore always "hard up." Can it be wondered at when we see the number of marriages constantly decreasing? Even when these fashionable do marry they live in boarding houses; those who do marry do so jealously and scandal.

A systematic raid appears to have been made upon the mails in the Chicago post office. One man is in jail for stealing letters and now another is arrested for cutting open the mail bags. The latter was a driver of a mail wagon, and upon being watched was discovered delivering something to a man in a buggy, between the office and the depot. After the mail was delivered several bags were found cut and the contents stolen. Although only two have been arrested, several thousand dollars have been reported as lost.

A bold robbery of a jewelry store was committed last evening about dark. While the store was temporarily closed and the clerks gone to supper, some bold thieves entered and took nearly everything in the show-cases. The goods are valued at $7,000. Nothing was broken or injured, and they even took the trouble of locking the door after coming out. They probably had false keys.

The great city improvement of widening State street will probably be postponed another year. The dissatisfied few have resisted with such a determination, they have compelled a postponement. There is no doubt but this will be the great through street north and south, completely overcapping all others in importance.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.

Address to the Colored People of the United States.

Your National Executive Committee, created by you in National convention assembled, January 13th, 1869, to urge legislation looking to the educational, material and political interests of the colored people of the nation, deem that they have at length arrived in progress of their efforts at a probable political consummation of their hopes, in so far as the organic law of the Republic is concerned.

They recognize the desired result of the anticipated announcement of the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, which forbids any abridgment of the rights of suffrage on account of race, color or previous condition of any citizen of the United States. They feel that this amendment should be the estimation of the colored people, transpiring in importance even the revered Declaration of our National Independence, inasmuch as it is a practical affirmation of the rights of man, while the Declaration is but a theoretical enunciation thereof.

Therefore has it been determined that it is fitting for your committee to advise the general assembly of the colored people of every State and Territory through the length and breadth of the land, whenever said Fifteenth Amendment shall have been officially announced, to ratify in order to offer up praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God, and in proper ways to assure to the world our realization and appreciation of the rights of our fellow countrymen in constitutionally securing to us that which has always been our just due, but unjustly withheld.

Your committee does hereby thus advise, and takes occasion at the same time to declare in your name that this just act of the American people will be held at its full estimation by the world, and its franchises as they will make sure of their rights as will add to the honor and material interest of the country, and that in the possession of this right along with those previously secured, they will really have a country to respect and defend, as well as their fellow countrymen, toward whom they can cherish most affectionate regard.

FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT—SUGGESTIONS FOR A FITTING CELEBRATION.

It is now certain that this amendment will be adopted, and the colored man take his place as a man, with all the responsibilities of a citizen. It is the crowning act of reconstruction. All honor to the Radical Republican party; step by step they have won the rights of all men; first, for freedom; then for civil rights; and lastly for political rights. In every effort they have been successful. The battle has been won.

How shall we celebrate the great victory? Many plans have been suggested, but thus far none that meet unanimous approval. I recommend the following: On the day the proclamation is issued by the Secretary of the United States, announcing that the Fifteenth Amendment has been ratified by the required number of States, and is a part of the Constitution, or on a day named as soon thereafter as possible; as our thanks are due to God, the giver of every good and perfect gift, who will rule in the kingdom of men.

1. That at nine o'clock, A. M., in our churches and places of worship, and from nine until twelve o'clock, offer up hymns of praise and prayers of thanksgiving to our Almighty Father, for the countless rich blessings we now enjoy, especially for the attainment of the full rights of American citizens. We are taught, before entering upon any great undertaking, to first implore the aid of the Deity. This is assuming a prudent advantage, no less than assuming the responsibilities of citizens of this vast and still growing Republic. We are now no more aliens in the land of our birth.

2. At one o'clock P. M., let the different societies and associations assemble at any named place, with the citizens on foot and in carriages and other conveyances, and form procession and march through the principal streets to a garden or hall, and there have addresses from one or more chosen speakers.

3. At night assemble in churches and have lecture and addresses from instructive speakers, also meet in the different halls and places of amusement and thus close the great day in joy.

It would suggest that persons of color close their places of business for the day. Also that no intoxicating liquors be drunk that day. It is better never to drink from the cup that stings our souls.

es. Let it be a day of pure and earnest rejoicing.

In the above I have proposed a crude plan for the celebration of this great day. The committees in the different parts of the States can perfect the plan to suit their locality.

The National Executive Committee are perfecting arrangements to have the day celebrated in all parts of the United States at the same time and in the same way. They ask the co-operation of all State Executive Committees.

County Committees are requested to report to headquarters.

Fraternally yours,
MOSES DICKSON.

The Indian suffrage convention resolution, memorializing Congress, was made a special order for to-morrow morning. The Warden of the Penitentiary submitting a report. The number of male convicts is 732, and female 24.

In the House, the House bill defining the duties of Justices of the Peace in criminal cases, the defendant being allowed to elect whether he shall be tried by jury or not, was passed in the Senate after amendment.

The bill revising the public school law is before the House.

An amendment has been agreed to giving women the right to vote at school meetings relating to the government of schools.

At a stable near St. Louis there is a young colt, out of the Shet and bred three weeks old, and weighing only 12-13 pounds. The Lilliputian animal is only twenty inches in height, and jumps through a fence like a cat. It is a pet in the neighborhood.

UNIFORMED.—Conductors on the Union Pacific Railroad are hereafter to wear uniforms. A blue coat, with brass buttons, a blue velvet cap, with a gilt band, constitute the uniform. What next?
